About the Youth Tennis Program

Houston's free youth tennis program started in 1990 as a collaboration between the Houston Tennis Association (HTA) and the Houston Parks and Recreation Department (HPARD). Over the years, the program has expanded and now offers youth development opportunities at 40+ neighborhood park sites and 40+ schools in the greater Houston area. A chapter of National Junior Tennis and Learning or NJTL, the program strives to achieve the goals established by co-founder Arthur Ashe by:

-  Reaching out to those who may not otherwise have the opportunity to learn and play tennis.
-  Instilling the values of leadership and academic excellence.
-  Giving young people the opportunity to fully develop their tennis skills so they can derive a lifetime of enjoyment from the sport.

The program is free to participants, but there is a need for alternative funding. Thanks to a grant from the United States Tennis Association (USTA), HPARD and HTA have joined forces to offer two very exciting new components: online program registration and an opportunity to support the program financially through the HYTA. Your contribution supports NJTL opportunities and you get a racquet or shirt! On behalf of our partners, thank you for your consideration.
